

Communication

This covers both written and oral communication. This involves being clear and concise, and able to interrogate ideas and present them persuasively and confidently. In this skill topic you will reflect on situations where you have exercised these abilities.

