Self-efficacy & Applying Knowledge

Self-efficacy and application of knowledge is taking the technical knowledge gained throughout university and applying it to the workplace. Here you will reflect on situations where you have evaluated and synthesised information.